Subject: Blackboard Vista training manuals and tutorials now in "Orientation course" for faculty
Importance: High

To: All faculty in the Connecticut Community Colleges

Yesterday, I sent you all an email to let you know that the “Transitioning to Blackboard Vista 4” training documentation is now available online.

In addition, the entire set of Blackboard Vista documentation and tutorials for faculty that have been licensed from Blackboard are now available inside the “Orientation—Teaching and Technical Resources for Faculty” course in WebCT Vista, into which all faculty in our system are enrolled. For more information about this course and how to access it, visit our webpage on Vista manuals and resources. (These resources could not be made available on a public website due to licensing restrictions.)

To find and register for Blackboard Vista training courses system-wide, visit the IITT Course Cart. If you encounter difficulties logging in, please check the NetID FAQs page first, to be sure you are entering your NetID correctly. I will be out of the office for a couple of weeks, so please email Rhonda DeWitt if you do require assistance registering into the Course Cart.
